

The Boy and the Happy Lion

Author: sohan

Age: 2

Once upon a time, in a small village, there lived a little boy named Tim. Tim loved going on adventures and exploring new things. One sunny day, while Tim was playing in the fields, he stumbled upon a big, friendly lion. As Tim approached the lion, he noticed something extraordinary – the lion had a big, joyful smile on its face. Tim wasn't scared at all. Instead, he sensed that the lion wanted to play. Tim and the lion spent their days together, running through the tall grass, playing hide-and-seek, and making each other laugh. They became the best of friends.

The lion was gentle and careful not to hurt Tim, even though he was much bigger. They would spend endless hours chasing butterflies, splashing in the river, and having picnics under the shade of a big tree. The lion would roar with happiness, and Tim would giggle and clap his hands with excitement. Word of their incredible friendship soon spread throughout the village. People would gather by the fields just to catch a glimpse of Tim and his happy lion. They couldn't believe how well they got along. One day, when it was time for Tim to go home, he hugged his happy lion tightly and said, "Thank you for being my friend, Mr.

Lion.I had the most wonderful time playing with you." The lion purred in contentment, expressing his gratitude for the joy Tim had brought into his life.As Tim walked back to his village, he waved goodbye to his furry friend, knowing that their friendship would last forever.From that day on, the village knew that even a lion could be filled with happiness and love.And so, the boy and the happy lion continued their adventures, cherishing each moment, creating beautiful memories together..
